Indigestion Ends.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of a case of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach if you will occasionally take a little Diapiesin after eating.
Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, Nausea, Indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), Bloating, Heartburn, Water brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.
Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapiesin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. Each triangle will digest all the food you can eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour.
Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from your druggist and start taking today and by tomorrow you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and Gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Some Farm Law.

In speaking to the students Judge Lafferty said that law suits often were caused by trivial matters which could have been easily prevented if the persons concerned had only had a slight knowledge of law. He pointed out that law suits often arose over boundary lines and corner stones.
"This is useless if we only understood the law. No survey can make a change in a boundary line if there has been a definite and recognized line for fifteen years. And ancient monuments or corner stones will hold, it matters not what the survey calls for."
"Agreements between the landlord and tenant should be in writing and must always be so if the contract holds for a longer time than a year. There should always be two copies of the contract, one for each party. The tenant is required to comply with the terms of the contract, and in case the tenant fails to cultivate his crop in a husband-like manner, the farmer may hire laborers to cultivate the crop properly and pay the cost out of the proceeds of the crop."
Among the other things mentioned by the lecturer was the subject of lawful fences, which, he said, must be built of solid material four and one-half feet high, either rails, plank or wire, or by a ditch 3 by 3 feet with a hedge on one side may be used. No man can use barbed wire for a partition fence unless his neighbor, whose field is next to his consents. When stock break over a partition fence, the man whose crop suffers may secure damage if the part of the fence the stock broke over belonged to the owner of the stock, otherwise not.
Water courses must take their natural way and no man can place obstructions in a stream, though it be upon his own land, should it in any way damage some other person.—Lexington Leader.

Printers' Standpoint.

Some merchants tell the printer he should make war with the mail order houses and keep trade at home for the good of the community. That's exactly what we believe in—keeping trade and money at home, says the Guernsey (Neb.) Gazette. But the printer who sends to mail order house for an order or is no more guilty of treason than is the person who sends away for his printing, and especially when he could get what he wants right at home and at a price that is just as low in the end as the price of the mail order printing houses. If a man buys his printing at home the printer appreciates his trade; if he buys it in some large city by mail the printer there and at home, has no thanks to bestow upon the purchaser for the business he has given out. If he had bought the printing from the home printer, that same printer would have a "thank you" to hand to the customer. The money paid for the printing would be spent by the printer, and the man who bought the printing would get his share of it. There is certainly a moral in trading at home, even for buyers of printed goods.

Kentucky Educational Association Will Assemble in June.

Prof. J. G. Crabbe, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, calls attention to the next meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association as follows:
The thirty-eighth annual session of the Kentucky Educational Association will be held at Estill Springs, Irvine, Ky., on June 22, 23 and 24, 1909. There is probably no place in Kentucky so well equipped and so admirably adapted to the entertainment of the association as Estill Springs. The large, old-fashion, home-like hotel can easily and comfortably accommodate 400 people. The surroundings are beautiful and the meeting this year should be the greatest and best in the history of the association.
The advantages offered this year for the entertainment of the members have never before been equalled. The inducements offered by the citizens of Irvine to secure this meeting of the association will be a net saving to the members of hundreds of dollars.

Stray Shot From Mexico.

Special to THE HERALD.

This is a country where eternal spring prevails. Mercury never below 55° and never above 85°. This (Lake Chapala) is the largest lake in Mexico, 90 miles long and as much as 30 miles wide. It is the next highest lake in North America, being 5,000 feet above sea level. Mexico has all kinds of climate. On the sea coast they have summer all year. From 4,000 to 6,000 feet higher, they have eternal spring. From 6,000 to 10,000 feet altitude they have temperate weather for coldest season. The tops of many mountains are snow-capped all the year. Most of the largest volcanoes are extinct, but many are smoking and a few are active. Nearly all of the interior has been volcanic and millions of acres are covered with volcanic rocks and ashes. The valleys are wide and level and very fertile. We are now at a hacienda or ranch of 8,000 acres. There are 500 people on the place, all but a dozen being native Indians. The methods of farming are quite interesting, being a combination of 15th and 20th century. Electrical power, furnished 100 miles away, is used to run the shops and mills. A 10-inch pump is also run in winter for irrigation purposes, as it never rains in winter, and this pump propels 3,000 gallons of water per minute, which is used to flood the fields. With all these advanced ideas the natives still harvest wheat as did people in the time of Moses. One day I counted 90 ox teams turning the soil with one handled plows, and with yokes leashed to the horns of the oxen. The native will not give up the old method of doing business. However, he is very skilled in many things. They turn out many artistic things in leather, feather, shell and clay products. They are also skillful stone cutters and do all the fine work on the palatial buildings in the cities. My family went bathing every day in this lake in a place where hot water comes up from the bottom. It is certainly a novelty to find such a place in mid-winter, and we shall regret soon to leave the land of the Montezumas for that of Old Tecumseh.

Lake Chapala, Mex. J. H. S.

Strength of the Local Paper.

The local newspaper should be found in every home. No child, says the Centerville Observer, will grow up ignorant who can be taught to appreciate the home paper. It is the stepping stone to intelligence in all those matters not to be learned in books.

Give your children a foreign paper which contains not one word about any person, place or thing which they ever saw, or perhaps never heard of, and how can you expect them to be interested?

But let them have the home paper and read of persons whom they meet, and places with which they are familiar, and soon an interest is awakened which increases with every arrival of the local paper.

Thus a habit of reading is formed, and those children will read the papers all their lives and become intelligent men and women, a credit to their ancestors, strong in their knowledge of the world as it is today.

Infections Imagination.

After all there is a good deal in talk. Let a man talk dull times and it is infectious, everybody talks dull times. Instead of rustling around to take care of what business there is, they all go sit down and mope over dull times. If a customer does happen to drop into one of these "dull times" stores he actually gets frightened out of one-half as much as he expects to buy, because things look so blue. He catches the spirit of the store and resolves to hang on to all his money with a death grip, even if his business goes to pieces on account of running short of goods to fill up the empty shelves. The bug-bear of hard times should be sat down upon. It is doing more to kill business than anything else. Tell a man he is sick, keep it up, and you will eventually hound him to death.

Winchester cannot be very far out of the woods if the following, from the Democrat, is the way they do in that thriving city: "While making his rounds one night last week, Policeman Albert Tanner saw a suspicious looking coon prowling around the railroad yards. He threw his club, and was fortunate in killing him. The coon, with other delicacies, was served for supper the next night and a number of his friends enjoyed the feast."

The hospitality of Kentucky is proverbial, and when it comes to Eastern Kentucky it is absolutely phenomenal. No people in the state are more ready to respond, and while they have not the christianizing influence of Central Kentucky may boast, they still have a supply of the milk of human kindness, as several cases noted in our columns will testify.

The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln on February 12 will be celebrated in many parts of the country. The cornerstone of a monument in his honor will be laid at his birthplace in Larue county, and President Roosevelt will make the principal address.

Don't we need more backbone for the interests of humanity? Not a spinal column that can not yield or bend; but upright, and that will fearlessly express upright and just opinions—a gentle, honest steadfastness, which is cruel never.

The year just past has been, to many men, a difficult one, the memory of which will be hard to erase; but looking back upon it will not help to forget the past or to prepare for the present or future.

Jim Faulkner, the hunter and trapper, who has been a tenant on Doc Kash's farm, will move to Scranton about April 1st. He says there is more game in that part of Menifee, along Licking river than in these parts.

On account of the death of Hillis Litz, county attorney of Henry county, Governor Willson will be compelled to appoint a Democrat to fill the vacancy as there is not a Republican attorney in the county.

At the recent term of Lawrence Circuit court, William Ratcliffe was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for assaulting his stepson-in-law, Harvey Yantz, with a red hot poker, and breaking his jaw and knocking out several teeth.

Moses Qualls, a merchant of Smoky Valley, Carter county, and Scott Dean, a farmer, were shot by their brother-in-law, Dr. J. H. Jones. Qualls was shot in the breast, making a fatal wound, and Dean in the legs. Family trouble was the cause.

Wm. H. Fox, aged 34 years, of Newport, despondent because he could not get work, killed his invalid wife "good-bye," then went into a dark cellar and cut his throat with a razor. His lifeless body was found about an hour later by his mother-in-law.

There is a movement on foot among the colored people of Louisville to start a bank. It is proposed to start the institution with a capital of $10,000 and increase it if the business afterwards justifies it. The negroes now have a number of banks throughout the state.

Scott Hudson was in Lexington last week buying general purpose horses for the Atlanta (Ga.) market. He found them by making trips into the smaller towns of Central Kentucky, but he says prices have advanced 20 per cent. since last fall. The kind of horses he bought cost him from $175 to $300 each.

While the sheriff of Boyd county was passing through Mt. Sterling with two prisoners, en route to the penitentiary at Frankfort, they jumped from the train. The men were handcuffed together and after a short chase were captured by the citizens. The sheriff took his prisoners to Frankfort on the next train.

Motion for a new trial in the case of Ruck Cottongame, formerly of Breathitt county, was overruled and he was sentenced to life imprisonment. His attorneys then moved for an arrest of sentence, which was also refused. His crime was the killing of Fariah Arnett in Ohio last September. An appeal will be taken.

The Boyd County court has ordered an election to take the voice of the people on the local option question. The order directs that three separate elections shall be held in that county on the first Monday in the coming month of April. One election for the entire county, one for the city of Ashland and one for the city of Catlettsburg.

A petition was last week filed in Circuit clerk's office, at Jackson, against Mrs. Louellen Hargis, widow of the late James Hargis, by creditors asking that the real estate be sold to pay his debts. It is alleged that Hargis left debts amounting to over $30,000 and that the personal property is being wasted by his executrix, Mrs. Hargis.

Rumor has it that the engineering corps of the newly projected Cincinnati, Kentucky and Virginia railroad will begin work at Yale, in Bath county, about the middle of February. This new road will open up some of the richest undeveloped country in the state and will extend into the Morgan county coal fields. It is backed by a company of Chicago capitalists.

Raw Furs—Profit for Country Boys.

This is the time of the year when the average country boy not only gets a great amount of sport and pleasure out of fur trapping, but considerable profit and pocket money. Raw furs in recent years have brought remarkably good prices. Fashion has ordained that every lady must wear furs, consequently the demand has increased. Prices of furs are higher than they were last season. M. Sabel & Sons, Louisville, Ky., make a specialty of Raw Furs, and a visit to their fur rooms is an interesting sight, for here can be found furs from every section of the United States. They receive shipments from all over the country in answer to their weekly price list, which they issue every Friday. This price list is furnished the shipper upon application.

"Why is it that nearly everybody who attends church likes to sit in the end of a seat and hold onto it like grim death and every person who gets a berth in that row must stumble over them?" Well, we confess we do that sort of a thing. It is to get out quickly in case of fire—we sinners are quite strongly reminded of fire, flames and brimstone that is pursuing us, and we can't tell just exactly when it is going to come. We want to be in position to make a quick get-a-way.

THE VERY BEST.

Have any of our readers seen a recent copy of the Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer? If not, it will pay to send for a copy, if for no other purpose than to note its present great worth as an educator in all things that tend to make life prosperous, and home, the happiest place on earth.

The editor by asking its readers to criticize and suggest improvements; and following advice thus obtained is enabled to produce a paper that exactly fits needs of a family and a material aid to father, mother and children in reaching that higher level in social life, where content and comfort reign supreme.

Father obtains ample information that guides in the where, when and how to regulate and increase the income from his efforts. The mother in management of household affairs, practical economy, government of children, and other duties that makes her toil a labor of love. Children's minds and hearts are freed from thoughts of questionable amusements and frivolities of life, and encouraged to emulate all that is helpful in planning for a useful future in life.

The Grand Idea being that: "As are our Homes, so will be the Community, State and Nation."

A most desirable help, is a non-sectarian sermon each week, as preached by that Biblical Student Pastor Chas. T. Russell; a reminder of the spiritual and moral rewards of living as Christians to the home.

Other departments are above the ordinary. A unanimous verdict of the Enquirer: "The cleanest and best family Weekly known to them."

THINKING OF MOVING WEST?

If not, then make up your mind and write me for descriptive list of farms in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. All fine, level, productive land that will grow anything under the sun, at prices ranging from $15 to $40 an acre, and come where life is made tolerable by easy, profitable farming. Why sweat and fret life away in the vain effort to eke out a mere miserable subsistence from the rock-ribbed, root-laced hillsides as your father and father's father did, when there is so much good land to be had yet awhile for a mere song? Get out of the rut—break away from the time-worn habit that keeps your nose to the grindstone. All it takes is resolution and a little nerve. Write me, and let me help you to a better condition.

Colds on the Chest

Ask your doctor the medical name for a cold on the chest. He will say, "Bronchitis." Ask him if it is ever serious. Lastly, ask him if he prescribes Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this disease. Keep in close touch with your family physician.

When you tell your doctor about the bad taste in your mouth, loss of appetite for breakfast, and frequent headaches, and when he sees your coated tongue, he will say, "You are bilious." Ayer's Pills work well in such cases.

DISASTROUS FIRES.

Dr. J. H. Stamper's Dental Office Burned.

Friday night last the dental office of Dr. J. H. Stamper was totally destroyed by fire, together with all of the paraphernalia of his profession. Crockett Coldiron, who lives near by the scene of the conflagration, was the first to discover the fire, and yelling out the alarm of "FIRE!" he hastened to do what he could to save the contents of the building. But when he attempted to open the door he found the inside an inferno so intensely hot that no one could enter, and nearly everybody in town being in bed at the time, 11:30 p. m., the building and contents were consumed ere aid reached the scene. Dr. Stamper estimates his loss at $350, but it is learned that he had $200 insurance.

John Ward's Residence Burned.

Fire broke out in the residence of John Ward Tuesday afternoon, about 2:30 o'clock, and ere aid could arrive to fight it the flames had gained such headway that it was beyond help. The prompt arrival of some of the students, and especially those who were boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Ward, enabled them to save the cook stove and several articles on the lower floor, including a quantity of meat in the smokehouse nearby. The cause of the conflagration, as we hear, was through a leak in the gas pipe. Miss Lou Ward discovered fire in a clothes closet in one of the upstairs rooms, and not wishing to disturb the people nearby, especially young Ira Nickell, who was in the neighboring house, she attempted to put out the blaze and fought it until she was physically exhausted, by which time it had gained so much headway that a well organized fire company could not have controlled it. The loss to Mr. Ward, including hundreds of articles that can not be replaced, must have been $1,500 to say the least. His son, Henry, who is in the west, lost a very fine rosewood guitar and a fine magazine gun. But on the house Mr. Ward carried a policy of $1,000, and if this be paid promptly it will be of much help, but the affairs of the company, the Ohio German, are in the hands of a receiver, and if he does not recover from it his only hope is through the agency which issued the policy, which was F. A. Lyon & Son, who are responsible under the law. A coincidence in connection with this conflagration is the fact that some time since Miss Lou, who discovered this fire, found fire in a closet and smothered it out, possibly the same place. Mr. Ward and his family have the sympathy of all in the community and under all circumstances they will be cared for by the charitable people of town.

An alarm of fire yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, caused our people to rush to the rescue. It was discovered that the roof of Aunt Eliza McNabb's cottage was ablaze, but quick work prevented what might have resulted in a destructive fire, the third within a week.

Two Children Burned.

Two of the younger children of Raleigh Cecil and wife, of Gillmore, were so badly burned Saturday afternoon that one died that night and there was no hope for the other Sunday afternoon, the latest report from there. The particulars, as we hear them, are that Mr. Cecil was attending court at Campton, probably on a jury, and there being no one else to do the chores, Mrs. Cecil was out feeding the stock, when she heard a scream, and hastening to the house was horrified to see her little ones terribly burned. One of them was about three years old and the other only about a year old. The one which died first, expired before Mr. Cecil arrived home from court. Mrs. Cecil has one other child by her former husband, David Lindon. Later—Reports now say that the surviving child will recover.

He Lost Everything.

Kelly Cox, an orphan boy, who was boarding with Mr. and Mrs. John Ward when fire consumed their residence and contents, in his desire to save the furniture and fixtures in the house lost everything on earth he possessed. Knowing his condition, Dr. Stamper started a subscription in his favor, and we are proud to say helped him considerably. He lost everything but what he had on his back, and our charitable citizens helped replenish his wardrobe, some of the merchants donating underclothing, some money, etc. One lady in our town who would not wish her name paraded, donated $5 cash, albeit she was less able than many whose names we noted on the list that satisfied their conscience by paying 25 cents. What is the beauty of having money unless you can help those in distress?

The Cold Wave.

The storm king reigned supreme throughout the country last Friday and Saturday, and reports from everywhere indicate there was great suffering. In this section there was a fall of forty degrees between 6 o'clock Friday evening and 5 o'clock Saturday morning. About six inches of snow fell during Friday night and Saturday morning. Many complaints were made by our people an account of the insufficiency of gas, and those who could piled coal and wood on their grates to assist in making heat. Lessons at the academy were suspended Saturday on account of the cold. It would be advisable for all who are using gas for heating purposes to have a supply of coal on hand on occasions of these sudden changes of temperature.

Helped the Destitute.

Saturday morning the attention of our citizens was called to the widow, Mrs. Edwards, and her sister, Rachel Gilley, with several children, who were said to be both starving and freezing. Jesse Kash, Gabriel Banks and one or two other boys started a subscription for their benefit and it was demonstrated that the milk of human kindness still flows in the veins of some, for they soon had a supply of both food and fuel to last for ten days or more at least.

A Good Institution.

The Morgan County National Bank, located at Cannel City, is advertised in our paper, and our readers are invited to give it due attention. M. L. Conley, Supt. of the O. & K. railroad, is president, Joe C. Stamper, the popular merchant of Grassy creek, is vice president, and Custer Jones, cashier. The capital stock is $25,000, and with such officers to handle its affairs it should prove a popular and profitable investment for stock holders, and a safe depository for all in the vicinity.

Hendricks Lykins, one of the boarders at John Ward's residence, when the fire occurred Tuesday afternoon, was painfully injured by a piece of falling glass. He responded to the call for aid and in helping take out things exposed himself so that a frame of glass hit him about the top of the head and cut his scalp for about three inches. Dr. Nickell, assisted by Dr. Stamper, dressed his wound and no serious consequences are anticipated.

South Rose, one of the boarders with Mr. and Mrs. John Ward in attempting to rescue his trunk from the fire Tuesday afternoon, jumped from the second story window with it, and falling upon it dislocated a floating rib and bruised his abdomen. But he was able to be about after that, although he suffered some pain Wednesday morning.

Ira Nickell, a student at the academy, has pneumonia and has been dangerously ill, but under treatment of Dr. A. C. Nickell is improving slowly. His father, Seborn Nickell, of Panama, Morgan county, was here to see him the latter part of the week, and again this week.

With the view of establishing a tiling factory at this place, Messrs. Rittenhouse and Fetterly, the gentlemen who have undertaken the enterprise, are negotiating the purchase of necessary machinery. In this connection we ask all farmers to investigate and take stock.

Hon. Ben J. Sewell has announced that he will not be a candidate for senator from this (34th) district to succeed himself, and A. H. Patton, of Jackson, is the only announced Republican candidate for the nomination. The convention is called for March 5, at West Liberty.

Henry Gillaspie, who has been working at Bascom Perkins' mill on Grassy, had his back hurt Monday. He says he was helping put a log on the skids, when it turned and a limb on the log hit him between the shoulders and the small of the back. He was about Tuesday, but very sore from the hurt.

Old Mrs. Gilley, widow of John Gilley, is destitute of clothing, especially underwear, as we learned Monday morning. She is about 70 years of age, and it is hoped the ladies of our town can find enough cast-off garments, and yet serviceable, to relieve her wants. Hence, this notice.

J. Taylor Day, who has been away for some months, returned home yesterday evening, and as he has gained in weight so that he now brings down the beam at 225 pounds. We warn all that he will be dangerous to tackle. However, Taylor is more anxious to meet his friends in peace, and we hope all citizens of the town will give him an old time welcome. Taylor Day's worth as an enterprising citizen is beyond compare.
